Emotional Intelligence and Leadership: Skills to Enhance Trust, Communication, and Inclusion in Your Team

A key asset for today’s manager is the ability to convert potentially negative energy into a positive and productive force. Emotional Intelligence is widely acknowledged as a critical component of interpersonal and professional effectiveness. This presentation gives managers an opportunity to gain insight, skills, and tools to build cohesive and productive workgroups that make the most effective use of differences and leverage the power of emotions to increase effectiveness.

Goals and Objectives:
1. Learn tools to assist in enhancing an environment of trust.
2. Apply tools to help maintain team communication and cohesiveness.
3. Integrate ways to create an inclusive environment for your team

Target Audience:
This activity is geared to healthcare providers and trainees, but all are invited.

Distinguished Speaker
JORGE CHERBOSQUE

Jorge Cherbosque, PhD, is the co-director of the UCLA Staff and Faculty Counseling Center. Jorge is also an international trainer, consultant and coach for organizations such as the Young Presidents’ Organization, Ford Motor Company, Chase Manhattan Bank and Knight Ridder Digital. His passion lies in helping people rediscover joy and possibilities in their lives.

Born in Mexico City and raised there and in Acapulco, Cherbosque received a B.A. from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and master’s and Ph.D. degrees from USC. Before coming to UCLA in 1986, he held many different jobs, including executive coach to the top CEOs of international companies.

Accreditation:
The Office of Continuing Medical Education, David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Office of Continuing Medical Education, David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 CreditTM. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.