APPLY FOR VOUCHERS WORTH UP TO $10,000 IN CORE SERVICES

The UCLA Clinical and Translational Science Institute (CTSI) provides the infrastructure to translate scientific discoveries into innovations that improve health in Los Angeles and the nation. To achieve its mission and advance translational research, the CTSI periodically awards vouchers worth up to $10K to defray the cost of core services.

Eligibility: Each eligible investigator may submit one application; previous voucher recipients may apply only if a different proposal is being submitted. Professional researchers, project scientists, research scientists, postdoctoral fellows, and graduate students are eligible to apply as a Co-Investigator with a faculty mentor.

Application requirements:
- Project description demonstrating need for specific core(s)
- Budget justification for requested core(s)
- Description of availability of samples, specialized reagents, technology, etc. required for core services requested
- Biosketch(es)

Review criteria: Ranked based on: translatability, innovation, approach and core utilization.

Cores: are available at the four partner sites: UCLA Westwood, Cedars-Sinai, Charles R. Drew University and Lundquist/Harbor-UCLA. Cores available by category are:

- Animals
- Cells
- Humans
- Images
- Molecules
- Shops
- Computations
- Genetics
