Transoral incisionless fundoplication (TIF): Have we finally found an endoscopic treatment for GERD?

V. Raman Muthusamy, MD, MAS, interventional endoscopist, will discuss the historical challenges to developing a viable endoscopic anti-reflux technique, provide overview of indications, technique and post-procedure care for the TIF procedure and review the clinical trial efficacy, safety and durability data from the TIF procedure.

📅 Wednesday, September 16, 2020  ⏰ 5:30 pm, PST

Add to your calendar by opening attachment

UCLA ESOPHAGEAL INSIGHTS ZOOM SERIES

Transoral incisionless fundoplication (TIF): Have we finally found an endoscopic treatment for GERD?

V. Raman Muthusamy, MD, MAS, interventional endoscopist, will discuss the historical challenges to developing a viable endoscopic anti-reflux technique, provide overview of indications, technique and post-procedure care for the TIF procedure and review the clinical trial efficacy, safety and durability data from the TIF procedure.

📅 Wednesday, September 16, 2020  ⏰ 5:30 pm, PST

Add to your calendar by opening attachment

Meeting ID: 957 1153 0602
Password: 8SEhdq

Upcoming Topics
- Supragastric belch — Wednesday, October 14
  Lisa J. Bolden, MA, CCC-SLP and Craig Gluckman, MD
- Malnutrition in upper gut cancer — Thursday, November 19
  Nancee Jaffe, MS, RDN and Elizabeth Koah, MA, MS, RD
- Diagnosis and management of achalasia — Thursday, December 10
  Alireza Sedarat, MD and Jane Yanagawa, MD

disclaimer