This seminar will be held online.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Outline the racial disparities in autism diagnosis and treatment.
2. Define “anti-racism” and how it can be applied in healthcare.
3. Discuss the importance of providers acknowledging the individual lived experiences of diverse communities.
4. Demonstrate awareness of one’s own cultural experiences and pre-conceived notions about race.

A recording with closed captioning will be available on the STAR Seminar web page at dpbh.ucla.edu/STAR-Seminar.
