Researchers in the Department of Radiology at UCLA are seeking volunteers who agree to be contacted for potential participation in future radiology studies.

You may participate in this study if you are 18 or older and are interested in being contacted about future radiology research studies. If you choose to participate, you will answer a brief on-line survey with your contact information and answer some health information questions. The survey will take 10-20 minutes of your time.

After you complete the survey, researchers from radiology may contact you to ask if you are interested in participating in radiology studies. The specific studies typically would include research that would involve a magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) exam or other imaging exam. Some of these studies seek healthy volunteers who are not under a doctor’s care for medical conditions. Studies may offer compensation for time and/or parking or travel expenses. By completing the survey, you are not obligated to participate in any of these future studies.

If you are interested, scan the code below or enter the weblink to read more information about the study and complete the survey on-line. For more information, please contact Tammy Graham at 310-794-9202.
